

Jeffrey L. Hudson

Jeff Hudson has concentrated his practice in areas of business law and in commercial contract litigation. Jeff has a solid background in litigating disputes concerning automotive concerns, particularly supplier and manufacturer disputes. He has successfully handled and litigated million dollar claims against Original Equipment Manufacturers and tier-one suppliers. Jeff has over 25 years of a commercial contract and litigation experience.

For many years he represented the Builder's Association of Southeastern Michigan, one of the nation's largest building industry associations and prominent member of the National Association of Homebuilders. During this time, he counseled the Association and its members with respect to contract matters and disputes. Jeff is a frequent lecturer on construction and contract remedies for the National Builders Institute, a prominent national sponsor of business seminars.

Jeff has acted as an arbitrator in contract disputes and successfully completed the 40-hour General Civil Case Mediation Training conducted by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education.
